Hoover Accepts Loss of Power To Raise Tariff

REACHES ACCORD WITH CONGRESS ON SLIDING SCALE

After Announcing Opposition to Strictures Placed Upon Power, Says He Was Misinformed.

PRESIDENT RUSHES BACK TO CAPITAL

Democrats, However, Seeking to Take From Him All Power, Will Oppose Compromise.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—President Hoover and republican tariff leaders in congress reached an accord late today on the new flexible tariff provision of the Hawley-Smoot measure, and it will be submitted to the senate tomorrow without change.

The president had found certain sections of the new flexible provision unsatisfactory, after being informed of its contents yesterday by telephone at his Rapidan river fishing camp in Virginia, and dispatched four senators to Washington late last night with a suggested modification.

The conferences continued late today, after Mr. Hoover returned unusually early from his week-end retreat, and it was apparent that the executive had been given all the details of the clause.

After conferring with Attorney General Mitchell and Solicitor General Thayer at the White House and with Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, who represents the compromise flexible amendment.

"Particularly pleased," Senator Smoot, who is chairman of the senate conference on the bill, was prepared to call the conference together tomorrow to consider the changes suggested by the president, but he would submit the conference report with the flexible provision to the senate tomorrow without change.

Mr. Hoover was represented as being particularly pleased with the provision delegating to the tariff commission power to consider invoice values and "other relevant factors" that constitute an advantage or disadvantage in competition, as well as costs of production of foreign and domestic articles in determining changes in statutory rates. He believes this will permit a speeding up of the commission's work.

It was reiterated by those close to the executive that he was willing to forego some of the power now given the president to change duties, and the government's leading law officers endorsed the new flexible provision in a statement issued today.

However, senate democratic leaders condemned the new flexible provision "constitutes a delegation of legislative authority which renders the same invalid."

Hoover Misinformed.

Republican leaders in congress were in high state of confusion when informed the president wanted a modification of the flexible provision agreed to in conference yesterday.

They could not understand it as Walter H. Newton, secretary to Mr. Hoover, had conferred at length with Senator Smoot and Representative Hawley, republican, Oregon, chairman of the house conference, before the conference finally approved the new plan.

However, after today's conferences they were considerably calmed and it was evident that the president had been given some erroneous interpretations of the text in yesterday's telephone conversations with his Virginia camp.

First, the president dispatched four senators to Washington late last night. They immediately went into conference with Senator Smoot, Mitchell and Thayer.

Returning this afternoon from his retreat, the president called in Mitchell and Thayer for a personal interview. It was after this conference that it was learned the president approved of the new flexible plan and that it would be submitted to the senate without change.

The compromise clause sharply curtails existing presidential authority in that it would require the executive to approve or disapprove a tariff commission recommendation within 60 days after a commission finding is submitted to him.

Holdout on Jury Reported To Be R. E. Harrison, Jr.

EAST POINT MAN REFUSES TO DENY OR CONFIRM REPORT

The lone holdout on the Walter C. Taylor jury, who voted for acquittal all Friday night and all day Saturday and late Saturday afternoon forced his 11 associates to accept his compromise verdict, who named the single count on which he agreed to vote for a verdict of guilty and then exacted a promise from the other 11 that they would not reveal his name Sunday was reported to be Robert Ervin Harrison, Jr., living at 22 St. Francis street, East Point, a mechanic for a West End motor company.

Harrison refused to admit or deny that he was the holdout, though he admitted that he refused to believe as the whole truth the testimony of several state witnesses, and that he "would not have voted for conviction" on certain counts under any circumstances.

Special Prosecutor William Schley Howard Sunday said it had been "reliably reported" to him that Harrison was the holdout. "Other members of the jury, who declared they would not violate their agreement with the juror because they didn't even know his name, pointed out Harrison's picture and said he was the man."

At his East Point home, Harrison was asked to confirm or deny the report.

Sticks to Agreement.

"The 12 men in that jury room agreed not to tell the name," he said. "I'm sticking to that agreement. The others can tell if they want to. But I won't."

Harrison went into a discussion of the Taylor case with a reporter for The Constitution.

"I never saw the juror who held out and I do not say that I am and I do not say that I am not," he said. "I voted my convictions. That man voted his convictions. I did not believe the testimony of Cecil Allen. Taylor's statement from the witness stand was more plausible than Allen's story. There was that man, Pizanti, too. He admitted on the stand that he had been before the grand jury four or five times, that he had lied three or four times, and that he was a crook. How was anyone to know that he was telling the truth at all?"

When told that The Constitution was going to publish reports that he

SENATE TO RATIFY TREATY OF LONDON AT THIS SESSION

Hoover Threat of Extra Session Brings Action; Billion Building Bill Will Be Put Aside.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—The ratification of the London naval limitations treaty at this session appeared certain tonight but senate leaders believed the demands of the big navy group for immediate legislation authorizing a building up of the navy to the strength allowed by the pact would go over.

Very carefully, foes of the billion-dollar construction program required under the treaty have laid the ground-work for opposition to it. In the hearings before the senate foreign relations committee on the treaty, Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, has received testimony from admirals opposing construction of all the six-inch cruisers allowed under the pact.

It is the contention of the navy command that America does not need the six-inch gun cruisers favored by Great Britain and Rear Admiral Halsey P. Jones, retired, has asserted that if America builds up to her full strength under the treaty she will have a "frozen" tonnage in a class of ships she does not require when the treaty expires in 1937.

A conference of senate republicans will decide tomorrow on just when they will take up the treaty, whether in the regular or in the special session which President Hoover has given notice he will call, if necessary.

Proponents of the pact continued confident today that the votes were overwhelmingly for the treaty in the senate and it was believed that little time would be required in debate, once under way.

However, hearings will be resumed tomorrow by both the foreign relations and the naval committees with the opposition anxious to examine the treaty and to have a position of outspoken condemnation of the pact.

Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee, is confident the hearings can be concluded by mid-week and a report submitted to the senate on the treaty before the end of the week, thus leaving it in a position to be taken up as soon as the tariff is out of the way.

Big navy supporters of the treaty have demanded some promise that a construction program will be put under way to build the American fleet to full strength allowed by the pact.

Chairman Britten, of the house naval affairs committee, already has introduced legislation to start this construction program. It calls for a billion-dollar expenditure over a 10-year period.

However, the opposition to such a program is ready to speak up and with the evidence it has enrolled from the foreign relations committee, it seems unlikely that the issue will be thrashed out at this session.

The navy leaders have opposed building the additional light cruisers allowed by the treaty, they have all advocated that the other new ships within the scope of the pact be built.

30,000 RAID SALT DEPOSITS IN INDIA; POLICE ARE STONED

One Britisher Seriously Hurt, Four Others Injured in Second Foray Upon Monopoly.

BY WEBB MILLER.

United News Staff Correspondent.

WADALA, BOMBAY, May 25.—(UN)—A mob of 30,000 to 40,000 Indians, including 100 independence volunteers, stormed the Wadala salt works today, breaking through fences and stoning police in sporadic battles lasting three hours.

Much salt was stolen from the government area, but about 100 persons were arrested in the attacks, bringing the total arrests at Wadala to nearly 700 in the last week.

Five British sergeants were injured by stones, Sergeant Glendenning seriously and the others slightly. Eighteen persons in the crowd were injured by police lathis or bamboo staffs, and sticks. Leaders of the Indian nationalist congress, who proposed a special ambulance for the occasion, said some of the 18 were in serious condition.

Large Quantities Taken.

Before dispersing at 11:30 a. m., the mob succeeded several times in breaking police cordons and permitting the Gandhi volunteers to invade the pans and carry away large quantities of salt. Mounted Punjab police helped charge the mob, belaboring natives with clubs.

Only 28 British sergeants and 250 native police opposed the mob. The conduct of the police was exemplary and at times daring, although some native officers were reluctant to act against their kinsmen except when directly ordered.

Three times ugly situations developed. At 11 a. m. an angry mob of British sergeants and 250 native police held their ground amid a shower of heavy stones thrown by seven thousand angry men and women. Native police rushed to their aid and drove the throng back to the station, amid jeers, execrations and in motor trucks inside the salt pan area, but rifles went unfired.

Because the salt pan area is 2 1/2 miles long and 1/2 mile wide, the police with the screaming mob once passions were loosed.

Sections of the crowd rushed from place to place tearing down the barbed wire fence and keeping the defenders on the jump. Native police armed with rifles acted as flying squadrons in motor trucks inside the salt pan area, but rifles went unfired.

Correspondent Mailed.

Once I was surrounded by a yelling group of 20 men demanding that I remove my sun helmet, wear a Gandhi cap offered to me and shout "Gandhi ki jai." I finally escaped by explaining I was a newsmonger and would suffer sunstroke without my helmet in the burning sun. I also suggested that the native police be made to shout "Gandhi ki jai." This suggestion started a laugh which ended an uncomfortable incident.

When I arrived at Wadala at 7 a. m., the people had begun to gather for this widely publicized raid. Police were detaining them behind a wire fence near Gowari station. Every few minutes electric trains disgorged hundreds of Gandhi-capped persons who by 8 a. m. numbered 2,000 or 3,000.

Police had 12 motor police patrols waiting and arranged a system of flag signals from a nearby hill to report the movements of the mob.

Another crowd formed half a mile away. Congress volunteers with red crosses on their arms brought an ambulance and laid stretchers on the ground. Two motor cars brought doctors and medical supplies.

At 8:35 a. m., 100 congress volunteers were detained.

Move To Impeach Taylor Is Pushed

1 KILLED, 3 HURT IN AUTO WRECKS

Two Injured Speeding To Fatal Crash on Griffin Highway.

GRiffin, Ga., May 25.—(AP)—One man was killed and another injured in one automobile wreck near here early Sunday and a half hour later two men speeding to the wreck were hurt when their car crashed into a ditch.

Augustus Clayton Sparks, 23, was killed in the first wreck, and his companion, Griffin Murphy, suffered a broken shoulder. The automobile hit a telephone pole about three miles east of here. The cause has not been determined.

Clinton Guest and Carlton Tolbert heard of the wreck and started to offer their assistance. Just before reaching the scene their car left the road into a ditch. Both were injured, Tolbert so seriously that he was taken to a hospital.

1 KILLED, 3 INJURED NEAR AUGUSTA.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 25.—(AP)—Losing control of his automobile while it traveled down a hill, C. F. Wright, 34, of Hephzibah, Ga., was killed near here Sunday. The car plunged into an embankment. Three of Wright's children, Jeanette, 4; C. F., Jr., 9, and Duward, 6, were severely injured. A two-year-old son escaped unscathed.

SEVEN ACCIDENTS IN CITY SUNDAY.

Hit-and-run drivers figured in four of seven automobile accidents reported at police headquarters Sunday, in which three persons were injured and in one in which three driverless cars participated.

The last mentioned accident occurred on Forrest avenue between Piedmont and Butler street. A car belonging to D. C. York, of 185 Forsyth avenue, N. E., was parked in front of his home, and it was hit by a hit-and-run driver. The car careened down a hill and struck two other parked machines but caused little damage to any of the cars.

Another hit-and-run driver at the intersection of Pulliam and Glenn streets struck a machine driven by M. J. Morris, of 880 Greenwood avenue. In the car with him were several friends, and Miss Dorothy Reed, of 162 West Harris street was thrown out of the car by the impact of the collision. Bill Hendricks, of 741 Ponce de Leon court, caught her in his arms and prevented her from falling to the pavement. He sprained his back in doing so and was treated at Grady hospital.

Early Sunday morning Charles Plunkett, of 1000 Washington street, was driving on Spring street and at the intersection of this street with Fourteenth street is said to have been struck by a car driven by J. C. Garner, of Ben Hill. Both cars were badly damaged and Mr. Plunkett and Mrs. A. Mitchell, of Marietta, and Ben Hill, were injured slightly. They were treated at Davis-Fischer hospital.

Later in the morning at Cascade avenue and Gorman street, Leulis E. Jones, of 306 Candler street, N. W., struck a 13-year-old boy, Aubrey Womack, of 683 Willard street, S. W. The boy is said to have become comatose in crossing the street and to have stepped into the path of the car. The boy was treated at Grady hospital for slight hurts and no case was made at the request of his father.

About 8 o'clock Sunday morning Albert J. Smith, of 352 Sheppard place, in making a left turn from Highland to North avenue, was struck by a car driven by an unknown man. This man told Smith to pull over and that they would settle for damages. When he complied the offending driver drove away.

Mrs. S. T. Smith, of 324 Parkway drive, reported to police that Sunday evening a negro man drove his car into her's at Forrest avenue and Bedford place. He failed to stop and is listed at headquarters as a "hit-and-run" driver.

Three More Councilmen in Favor of Official's Ouster; Convicted Clerk Hears Sentence Today.

While Walter C. Taylor, city clerk convicted of bribery, stands before Judge Virlyn B. Moore at 9:30 o'clock this morning to be sentenced, determined plans are being laid by leading members of council to oust him from the office which a superior court jury late Saturday afternoon declared he had violated. Under the law Taylor can get a maximum of 12 months in jail and a fine of $1,000.

Under the impetus of the stand taken several months ago by Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the 10th ward, other members of the councilmanic body Sunday night came forward with announcements of their intention to press ouster proceedings against Taylor and all other members or employees of the city who have been or subsequently are legally convicted of corruption in office.

Taylor's lawyers, headed by Reuben R. Arnold, this morning will file a skeleton motion for a new trial, already having announced that should they fail in this case will be carried to the higher courts. Judge Moore also is expected to set a new bond for Taylor. His $10,000 appearance bond was permitted to stand Sunday on plea of Lowry Arnold, 34, of Hephzibah, Ga., a member of his brother returns this morning from a short business trip to Birmingham.

Councilmen Support Move.

Those Sunday who made known their intention to prosecute the move in council for dismissal of Taylor were Aldermen Ben T. Huie, of the third ward, candidate for mayor; Alderman Alvin L. Richards, of the thirteenth, and Councilman Nelson T. Spratt, of the tenth. In statements to The Constitution these three members of city council announced their unqualified opposition to retention of office by the convicted city clerk.

"I will not impeach Taylor as quickly," said Alderman Huie. "He should resign without delay, and if he does not, I will fight to the end that he is brought to trial before council on one charge. There should be no hesitancy on the part of council in this matter. Immediate action is the only expression expected. Taylor's resignation now could prevent this action."

Alderman Richards declared that he "hoped Taylor will resign and save himself the trouble of an impeachment trial."

"Impeachment proceedings at the next meeting of council," said Mr. Richards, "will be imperative if Mr. Taylor does not resign. It is the necessity for the appointing of any councilmanic committee to investigate, as Mr. Taylor has admitted doing things which would be impossible for him to continue as clerk."

"Time to Take Action."

Councilman Spratt pointed out that since the charges of the grand jury against members of council and city employees were made he has taken the consistent stand that the would join in no more prejudicial to any indicted persons prior to the result of their trial in court.

"I have steadfastly taken this stand," he declared Sunday night, "and I intend to maintain that attitude. But after we have indicted officials convicted by a jury in criminal courts it is time to take some other action. I most certainly feel that Taylor and all others who are thus convicted should be dismissed from office in connection with the city government."

"I take this stand," Mr. Spratt continued, "although in several cases the men affected are not personal friends—and it hurts me. But it is something is done to bring about a cleaner and better government for Atlanta, and with that in view I shall, of course, vote for the impeachment of convicted employees or members of council. Officials guilty should immediately resign to make undue action of council. I do not say this only in Mr. Taylor's case, but in those cases that have already been decided, and if others are also convicted I will readily vote against their continued congection in any capacity with the city government."

Further Prosecution Discussed.

Plans for further action against Taylor, who also is under indictment on charges of extortion and defrauding the city, the latter indictment returned by a grand jury in the purchase of the site of the present city hall and in which Fred Wilson, Broad street merchant, also is under indictment, were discussed Sunday by Solicitor General John A. Borkin and Special Prosecutor William Schley Howard at the latter's Decatur home. No announcement was made following the conference.

Alderman J. E. Turner and Councilman William E. Saunders, both under indictment for bribery, are duplicate key or through a hole in a brick wall, made to allow alterations.

LINKS BATTLE MAY SEE FINISH OF ACE'S CAREER

All Matches Except Finals Will Be Played at 18 Holes; Hardest Hurdle of Golf.

AMERICAN PLAYERS FIT AND CONFIDENT

Tricky Greens of St. Andrews Will Demand Atlantan's Keenest Eye and Aim.

BY ARCH RODGERS.

United News Staff Correspondent.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 25.

Bobby Jones against the field seemed to be the forecast here tonight for the British amateur golf championship which starts tomorrow morning with 26-Americans among the record entry list of 272.

On the eve of starting his quest for the only major golf championship he has never won, Jones was playing in top form, driving true and far.

There is a touch of the dramatic about Jones as he enters this tournament. Both his American and English friends believe this to be his farewell to international tournament play and profess to see in it his last charge over the ramparts of world supremacy.

For a dozen years Jones has pointed for the illustrious title and, at the height of perfect form, he is making his greatest bid. If successful in the British amateur and open it is believed that Bobby will attempt to corral all four major titles in a single playing season and thus bid adieu to the strenuousity of tournament play with the greatest record ever dreamed of.

Straight driving is one of the two essentials any player with championship aspirations must possess because of the hidden bunkers and traps which silently, but eagerly, await to pounce on the slightest error off the tee.

The other important element is calculating the location of the tricky greens which are nowhere duplicated on a championship golf course.

A striking illustration of the latter happened today when Dr. Oscar F. Wilting, Portland, Ore., member of the American Walker cup team, placed a 240-yard brassie dead to the pin. He was playing the sixth hole, but found his ball 10 inches from the pin on the twelfth hole. The two holes have double greens clear across fairway, at least 100 yards long and 15 yards wide.

All of the American Walker cup players are fit and confident, and all except Francis Ouimet, of Boston, got in practice rounds today, most of them playing Glen Eagles.

George Von Elm, of Detroit, straightened his long game, while most of the others practiced putting, which is necessary because of the double greens, lengthy but narrow, guarded by innumerable mounds and undulations.

Twenty-one of the 26 Americans drew byes in the first round, with Harrison Johnston, of St. Paul, the only Walker cup player who did not draw a bye. Johnston will play two matches Monday if he defeats Bernard Darwin, British golf expert, in the first round.

Paul Azzili, New York, will be the first American to start out tomorrow, when he leaves with J. D. DeWar at 8:15 a. m. Besides Johnston and Azzili, the other Americans who have first round matches are H. B. Perrin, J. H. Forsman and K. H. Baugh.

All of the matches, except the final, will be played at 18 holes. The first round matches and the first half of the second round matches will be completed tomorrow, Bobby Jones with S. Roper as his opponent, is scheduled to tee off at 2:54 p. m. The 18-hole matches are conceded to be the chief obstacle to Jones.

The weather forecast for tomorrow is warm and sultry.

The Weather

North Carolina—Fair Monday and Tuesday; slightly warmer Tuesday in north portion.

South Carolina—Fair Monday and Tuesday; slightly warmer Tuesday in north portion.

Florida—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday, probably local thundershowers in extreme south portion.

Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia—Fair, with rising tendency Monday and Tuesday.

Louisiana and Mississippi—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday; somewhat warmer in the interior.

Alabama—Fair Monday; Tuesday partly cloudy, somewhat warmer in the interior.

Extreme Northwest Florida—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday.

MIAMI OFFICIALS ON TRIAL TUESDAY

Capone's Charges of Conspiracy to Cause His Arrest Will Get Hearing.

MIAMI, Fla., May 25.—(AP)—Miami's mayor, one of her city commissioners and her director of public safety are slated for Tuesday hearing on charges of conspiracy to arrest falsely Al Capone, surface emperor of the underworld.

Mayor C. H. Reeder, Commissioner John S. Knight, and Public Safety Director S. D. McCreary were summoned in warrants sworn out by Vincent C. Giblin, Capone's attorney, in retaliation for the "arrest Capone" campaign conducted here recently. They were charged with conspiracy to arrest falsely the gang lord with violation of a city ordinance, James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio, who had presented a nominal, and owner of the Miami Daily News, also was named in a similar warrant. He has been active in the campaign to drive Capone from Miami, but left here Tuesday for his home in Dayton, Ohio.

McCreary also was charged with false arrest in another warrant. He, Mayor Reeder, and Commissioner Knight have posted bond for their appearance Tuesday to answer the charges in circuit court of Justice Warren L. Newcomb.

The tables of recent legal actions will be turned as the city officials face charges. Capone recently has been subject of an "arrest on sight" campaign, following the plan adopted in Chicago while he visited there. The surface gang leader, it is understood, has wearied of the almost constant and uncomfortable attention he has received from authorities since he arrived here Easter Sunday from his prison home on Alcatraz Island, San Francisco.

Three recent arrests have figured in the plan inaugurated by city officials to drive him from the community, and he has been warned that he will be arrested whenever he is found on Miami streets.

The action in arresting the city officials and swearing out the warrant for former Governor Cox was taken as a counter thrust to municipal action in framing and adopting a vagrancy ordinance ostensibly intended to fit Capone's case. The ordinance provides a heavy fine or jail sentence for anyone convicted of frequenting streets or public places in a disorderly manner. It is alleged to be illegally or unlawfully obtained.

Capone's appearances in various courts in the Miami area have been almost as frequent as his public appearances in other parts of the community since he came here. Padlock proceedings instituted against his elaborate home on Palm Island, Miami Beach, now are pending in circuit court.

The gangster today denied that he intended to move to Havana, on account of the inhospitable reception accorded him here.

GARNER ATTACKS STEEL TAX REFUND

Democratic Leader Charges "Gross Negligence" to Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—A charge that the treasury department was "guilty of gross negligence in its failure" to let the courts decide the merits of the recent $30,000,000 tax refund on 1918 taxes to the United States Steel Corporation was made today by Representative Garner of Texas, the house democratic leader.

Continuing his criticism of the hearings can be concluded by mid-week and a report submitted to the senate on the treaty before the end of the week, thus leaving it in a position to be taken up as soon as the tariff is out of the way.

Big navy supporters of the treaty have demanded some promise that a construction program will be put under way to build the American fleet to full strength allowed by the pact.

Chairman Britten, of the house naval affairs committee, already has introduced legislation to start this construction program. It calls for a billion-dollar expenditure over a 10-year period.

However, the opposition to such a program is ready to speak up and with the evidence it has enrolled from the foreign relations committee, it seems unlikely that the issue will be thrashed out at this session.

The navy leaders have opposed building the additional light cruisers allowed by the treaty, they have all advocated that the other new ships within the scope of the pact be built.

Bigamy Is Charged To Wisconsin Pastor

BOSCOREL, Wis., May 25.—(AP)—The Rev. Fred E. Osborne, pastor of the Christian church today was at liberty under $2,000 bond pending a preliminary hearing on charges of bigamy by the state board of his church.

It was evident, Garner said from a recent decision by the United States court of claims in the Packard Motor Car Company case against the government, that a loss of $90,000,000 occurred in the steel corporation refund on 1918 taxes, he added, the same issues were involved.

"Application of the same principles to the $26,000,000 refund to the United States Steel Corporation on 1917 taxes would have saved the government $17,000,000," the Texan continued. "In my opinion, the treasury department has been guilty of gross negligence in its failure to bring those controverted matters into the courts. The steel corporation's refund was based on an opinion of former Solicitor Alexander Gregg of the interior revenue bureau, who, Garner said, later declined to approve it."

Zeppelin Returns To Brazilian Base

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, May 25.—(UN)—The Graf Zeppelin was nearing the end of its South American visit today and pointing its salar nose northward to the United States.

The giant German dirigible left Rio de Janeiro at 8:42 a. m. (8:42 a. m. E. S. T.) after a stop of little more than an hour, and headed for Pernambuco, 1,200 miles to the north, where it will land before proceeding to Havana, Cuba, and Lakehurst, New Jersey.

Points along the Brazilian coast reported the morning passage on a wire schedule calculated to bring the Zeppelin to Pernambuco early tomorrow.

Thousands of citizens in the Brazilian capital were disappointed in not being able to see the Graf after spending hours in preparation to do so.

Burglars Loot Bank Of Enormous Sum

ST. LOUIS, May 25.—(AP)—Five burglars looted 161 safety deposit boxes in the vault of the Grand National Bank today and escaped with approximately $14,000. The bank's cash as well as stocks, bonds, jewels and other valuables belonging to box holders. No estimate was placed on personal losses by bank officials. Morris "Sappho" Barnholtz, 52, a hotel proprietor, whose box in an adjoining vault was singled out by the robbers was arrested and held in $50,000 bond pending further investigation.

Entrance was obtained either by duplicate key or through a hole in a brick wall, made to allow alterations.

U. S. MOTHERS END TOUR OF BATTLEFIELDS

First Contingent Returns to Paris From Scenes of Glory and Death.

PARIS, May 25.—(P)—The American Gold Star mothers of the first group to cross the Atlantic on a pilgrimage to the graves of the American war dead, today said good-bye to their boys in the battleground cemeteries.

Their pilgrimage is almost over. They have left behind Verdun, Nancy, Chateau Thierry, Soissons and St. Quentin, cities they knew from wartime dispatches, and are coming back to Paris along the roads made famous by their soldier sons.

Many of the mothers tonight reached Paris and tomorrow all will be here. Their last day in the battle zone was marked by two important events, the French national celebration of "Mother's Day," and the formal opening of the American Legion auxiliary's annual poppy drive by Ambassador Walter E. Edge.

"Mother's Day" came to France from the United States, and this year the government urged every town to observe it. In Paris and many other places medals were given to mothers of large families. In all there were serious and speeches to inculcate reverence for motherhood and appreciation of the national duty to care for the nation's mothers.

An illness was reported tonight among the mothers in Paris. Mrs. Samuel M. Reynolds, of Damascus, Ohio, was taken to the American hospital for rest and care. She is 78 years old and worn out by the fatigue and emotion of her trip.

FRENCH SEE MOTHERS AS FRIENDS.

PARIS, May 25.—(P)—French opinion today recognized the American Gold Star mothers as messengers of peace on earth and good will to mankind.

Today, with all France watching the visitors reverently, there was abounding evidence that their pilgrimage across the sea had served to give impetus to the world movement for the curbing of war.

The dolorous and unostentatious visit of the American mothers to the graves of their sons has revived sadness in thousands of French homes which were made desolate by the war, but observers believed it had also re-energized the determination of the masses to wage battle unflinchingly for peace.

"Mysterious indeed are the workings of Providence," satirists distinguished Frenchman today to an Associated Press correspondent. "Who can fail to be struck by the fact that these mothers come to us when France, and all the foes of warfare, are seeking to fashion a durable fabric of peace?"

We are trying to build up a new world of arbitration, conciliation and concord, to replace the old system of annihilating and bloody conflict. We have proposed a federal union of Europe as a means of producing a European harmony. We have removed all troops from German soil. We are rebuilding on the foundation of mutual respect and mutual confidence. And now the American mothers have come, in a kind of blessing to our efforts.

A clergyman near Paris today delivered a sermon to his flock on the inspiration derived from the visit of the American mothers.

"Women of all countries," he exclaimed, "in memory of our beloved dead, do you now strive for universal concord? For our sons have truly suffered enough to liberate future generations from the devastating horrors of war. It is they who have the great beyond repeat the words of Jesus: 'Love one another.'"

"May your every strength and energy be directed to the lessening of suffering throughout the world. To those who preach hatred and violence, I beseech you to reply with the words: 'Love and fraternity.'"

CAPTAIN HONORS MOTHERS OF DEAD.

LONDON, May 25.—(P)—Gold Star mothers from the United States and veterans of the A. E. F., who accompanied them today took possession of Westminster where they were received on behalf of the government by the Earl and Countess de la Warr.

The Americans, comprising 154 mothers and 116 veterans of the 27th division who are acting as their traveling companions, arrived in England yesterday to begin a pilgrimage to the graves of sons and buddies who died in the World War.

Led by Ambassador Davies and Colonel John Thomas, military attaché at the American embassy, the solemn little group marched across the street to Westminster Abbey where they silently gathered about the tomb of England's unknown soldier. Mrs. Flora McCoy, of Tonawanda, N. Y., who lost two sons in the war, laid a wreath on the simple slab while the others bowed their heads in silent prayer.

The procession then formed once more and marched down Whitehall to the Cenotaph, which is Great Britain's official memorial to her World War dead.

Pluto Is Name Of New Comet; Wins Over Many

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., May 25.—(P)—"Pluto" has been selected by scientists of Lowell observatory here as the name for the recently discovered trans-Neptunian body which they believe is the long-sought planet. The name is symbolic of the comparatively dark and distant regions through which the celestial body rides on its orbit about the sun.

The announcement was made by Roger Lowell Putnam, trustee of the observatory and nephew of Percival Lowell, founder of the observatory, who predicted the existence of the planet 16 years ago after extensive mathematical research. On January 21, last, scientists here saw a tiny speck of light which they announced last March was the planet.

Mr. Putnam, who came here from Springfield, Mass., to participate in the official naming of Planet X, revealed that the name "Pluto" was selected after the host of suggested names had been narrowed down to three—Minerva, Pluto and Cronus. "We felt," said Mr. Putnam, "that the line of Roman gods for whom other planets are named, should not be broken and we believe that Dr. Lowell, whose researches led directly to its discovery, would have felt the same way."

The discovery of this planet is so pre-eminently a triumph of observation that Minerva, the goddess of wisdom, would have been our choice if her name had not for so many years been borne by an asteroid.

"Cronus, the son of Uranus and the father of Neptune, would have been appropriate, but so is Pluto, the god of the regions of darkness where Planet X holds sway. Jupiter and Neptune already are in the heavens and it seems particularly appropriate that the third brother should have a place."

Asserting all planets have symbols which frequently are used instead of their entire name, Mr. Putnam said "Pluto" leads itself easily to the monogram "pl," the initials of Percival Lowell, and "would be a fitting memorial to him."

"We therefore felt," Mr. Putnam concluded, "that Pluto is the proper name for the planet, and we are suggesting to the American Astronomical Society and the Royal Astronomical Society."

Mr. Putnam said plans were to withhold announcement of the selection until the chosen name had been presented to the two astronomical societies and an official bulletin issued by Harvard University, but that a premature report of the naming had escaped through the personnel of a printing office. This caused the observatory officials to change their plans and issue the official announcement through the Associated Press last night.

Fair, Warmer Weather Seen For City Today

Although temperatures have been below normal for the last several days, indications are that warmer weather with continued fair skies is in store for Atlanta and vicinity today. After an unusually rainy period, the local weather prognostications are for cloudless skies today and probably Tuesday, according to advices from the Washington observer.

Funeral at Ben Hill For Mrs. Davis Today

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the Ben Hill Baptist church, with the Revs. W. M. Suttler and Chester Adams officiating, for Mrs. Bessie E. Davis, wife of B. C. Davis, who died Sunday at the home in Ben Hill, Georgia.

Mrs. Davis was 42 years old and an active member of the Martha chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, No. 128, and the Baptist church. Surviving her, in addition to her husband, are one brother, Owen Seale, of Aurora, Ill., and her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Miller, of Kewanee, Ill. Interment will be in the Ben Hill churchyard. A. W. Wray and Lowndes are funeral directors in charge.

Man's Birthplace Is Quest Of Noted American Explorer

ROY CHAPMAN ANDREWS LEAVES FOR MONGOLIA

PEIPING, China, May 25.—(P)—Roy Chapman Andrews, celebrated American explorer and zoologist, specializing on the study of primitive man in Asia, announced today that he would start tomorrow on his latest expedition into Mongolia in search of the birthplace of man.

The expedition will leave here for Kalgan, on the great wall of China, about 100 miles northwest of Peiping. Five months will be spent in the field and the explorers of the American Museum of Natural History plan to cover an area of between 3,000 and 4,000 miles in the Gobi desert where few white men ever have been before.

The expedition, after leaving Kalgan, will travel northwest through desert country by automobile for about 400 miles. Then it will work eastward to a district that has never been mapped, which lies about halfway from Kalgan to the Russian frontier and to the east of the Kalgan-Urga road and telegraph line.

Trace of the ancestors of the 1,000,000-year-old "Peking woman" will be the immediate objective of Mr. Andrews. The area on which he will concentrate is a great strip of the earth's Pliocene stratum, preceding the ice age, which scientists believe was the period of the "Peking woman."

These skulls were discovered near Peiping last December and attracted wide attention in the scientific world.

In many places, according to information which Dr. Andrews has assembled from Mongol sources, this stratum, extending over hundreds of square miles, is now exposed at the earth's surface. This makes a search for fossils possible at certain times of the year.

"This stratum is exactly what the American museum of natural history has been seeking for the last nine years," Dr. Andrews explained, "and announcing his start for the desert."

"It is just the right age where we expect to find evidence of the origin of man and I feel certain we will make important discoveries."

"We have concluded that the Gobi stratum which we explored formerly was too old to contain traces of man. Scientists believe that man originated in central Asia because of knowledge that for millions of years it has offered conditions which were most encouraging to his development."

"The plateau where we will spend the summer was once beautifully forested and there were marvelous lakes. The climate was exhilarating which provided the stimulus for the dawn of man to develop and go forward. Scientists have proven that this section of the world is the oldest continuously dry land on the face of the earth, because it remained above the waters while the land masses of Europe and America were periodically rising and falling."

The expedition, promoted by the American Museum of Natural History, also will make further explorations in the area where, in 1928, were found remains of the "dune dwellers," a race of people who lived in the stone age.

Dr. Andrews discovered flint instruments and other objects indicating there were millions of people who had disappeared from the face of the earth and historians have never been able to determine in which direction they scattered or what became of them.

The party will consist of Dr. Andrews as leader and zoologist; Walter Grainger, chief paleontologist; second in command; Albert Hompson, assistant in paleontology; and J. MacKenzie, chief of motor transport. All accompanied the Asiatic expeditions on previous trips. Lieutenant William G. Wyman, assistant military attaché of the American legation, Peiping, will be topographer, and Dr. C. D. Garber, of the Rockefeller Foundation hospital, Peiping, surgeon.

Two Chinese scientists, W. C. Pei of the Chinese geological survey, and Dr. H. C. Chang, of the Canton University, will be active members. Dr. Chang was educated in Vienna and Munich. W. C. Pei made the actual discovery of the skull of the "Peking woman" 30 miles from Peiping. There also will be nine Chinese helpers and camp attendants and eight Mongol camel boys.

Dr. Andrews and the expedition will be preceded over the desert by a caravan of 50 camels carrying supplies. The automobiles will go into the desert as far as possible and when the sand dunes become impassable a base will be established while the explorers, mounting on camels, push further into the habitat of primitive man.

A radio set will be taken for picking up time signals sent from Manila each day at noon, for the purpose of making reckonings of the expedition's position. The expedition probably will return to Peiping in October.

Flint Banker Freed In $3,592,000 Case

FLINT, Mich., May 25.—(P)—Grant J. Brown, former president of the Union Industrial Bank of Flint, was acquitted today by a jury in circuit court of charges of embezzlement which resulted from a $3,592,000 shortage discovered last fall.

The jury of nine men and three women deliberated 43 hours.

Brown was one of 16 employees and executives of the bank indicted after the embezzlement was discovered. Twelve of the 16 now are serving terms in the Michigan state prison at Jackson.

The actual charge against Brown was misuse of $47,000. He still faces other embezzlement charges and also is accused of making a false statement to a state bank examiner. Prosecutor Charles D. Beale said after the verdict that he had not determined whether to press these charges.

C. L. Lambert Dies At Home in Atlanta

C. L. Lambert, 70, died Sunday morning at his residence, 9 Whitley street. Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock this morning from Lake Heights Baptist church, the Rev. Henry Henderson officiating, and interment will be in Antioch cemetery.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Elizabeth Lambert and Mrs. Donnie Phillips; a sister, Mrs. Emily Leathers, and four brothers: J. G. Lambert, of Atlanta; W. J. Lambert, of Tampa, Fla.; and B. C. Lambert and G. W. Lambert, of Houston, Texas.

What safeguards are being taken to protect your supply of natural gas reserves?

Modern science has found that by conservation and moderate withdrawals, the life of a gas field can be extended indefinitely. Southern Natural Gas Corporation is safeguarding its source of gas supply for many years to come. The original natural gas field in Pennsylvania, drilled in 1865, is still producing gas.

Idaho U. President Tenders Resignation

MOSCOW, Idaho, May 25.—(P)—Dr. Frederick J. Kelly has resigned as president of the University of Idaho. He charged that the state board of education had "thwarted his scholastic, financial and educational policies," including the subordination of athletics.

After tendering his resignation Dr. Kelly, at a meeting of members of the university faculty and representatives of students last night, charged the board with violating an agreement made when he consented to come to the university from the University of Minnesota, where he was dean of administration.

He said that he had no plans for the future.

Dr. Kelly requested that his resignation be made effective as soon as possible and in any event not later than September 1.

Reds and Facists Battle in Berlin

BERLIN, May 25.—(P)—Two bystanders were wounded and a third was stabbed in free-for-all fights between communists and fascists today.

In the west end of Berlin another fight developed between communists and fascists, and several policemen were hurt. Eight more communists were arrested.

Constitution Prize Race Will End Next Saturday

Rich Awards Await Winning Candidates as Reward for Their Efforts.

Lakemont Candidate

Facing the supreme test of their ability to garner credits in The Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign, candidates today enter upon the final week—the home stretch—that will decide the winners of 18 fine, new motor cars and 20 radios. Saturday at 9 p. m. will be the end. Effective during this closing week of the campaign, a final credit schedule is announced in the campaign advertisement elsewhere in this issue, together with vitally important instructions for every candidate.

Every day and every hour of the next six days is important to candidates. In the rush and tumult of the short time that remains of the campaign, one is apt to overlook opportunities that may cause disappointments later, and candidates are urged to make a careful survey of their field so that every possible source of credits can be made to yield the utmost.

To let failure overtake one at this stage of the campaign would be to relinquish the most attractive opportunity in years to own a fine, new motor car by spare time effort.

As matters now stand the race in many cases is remarkably even. Candidates enter upon the home stretch today with victory possible for anyone in the list. It is not a matter of chance or luck. Every candidate can decide his or her own fortune during the six days that remain.

DR. NEAL ANDERSON

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., May 25.—(AP)—The world today was pictured in a mechanical age blind to materialism by Dr. Neal L. Anderson, of Atlanta, in an address on stewardship before the Southern Presbyterian general assembly here late today.

He found an appalling situation resulting from stagnation in modern church work "at this golden hour of all history in the midst of a world that is spiritually bankrupt." Apathy in missionary interest has made workers wonder if they can maintain fields now open, the minister asserted.

His address was delivered at the only session today of the assembly attended by representatives of Presbyterian churches in seventeen southern and southwestern states. A number of the delegates had not returned from Washington where this morning they attended the dedication of the Church of the Pilgrims, authorized by the assembly ten years ago. Dr. William R. Dobyns, of Birmingham, Ala., retiring moderator, preached the dedicatory sermon.

Having spent the first three days of the annual convention in receiving reports from recess committees, the assembly tomorrow will begin consideration of standing committee recommendations on church union and other questions important to the church.

A FAMILY DOCTOR'S LAXATIVE IS BEST

Your health is too important! You cannot afford to experiment with your delicate bowels when coated tongue, bad breath, headache, gas, nausea, feverishness, lack of appetite, no energy, etc., warn of constipation. This applies not only to grown people, but more particularly to children. That's why a family doctor's laxative is always the safe choice.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is prepared today under strict laboratory supervision from fresh laxative herbs and other pure ingredients, and exactly according to Dr. Caldwell's original prescription.

Today, millions of families rely on Dr. Caldwell's judgment in the selection of their laxative. For Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, in bottles ready for use, sold in all drug stores, is now the largest selling laxative in the world.—(adv.)

PENNSYLVANIA PRIMARY COSTS AIRED TODAY

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—Costs of the recent Pennsylvania republican senatorial primary will be sought tomorrow by the senate campaign funds investigating committee in examination of the participants.

Secretary Davis, the winner, and Senator Grundy and Francis Bohlen, his defeated rivals, all have been called by the committee to submit details of their campaign expenditures in open session tomorrow.

A similar three-cornered senatorial primary in Pennsylvania four years ago led to the expenditure of more than $2,500,000 and resulted in the senate electing William S. Vare, the senator-elect. The senate investigating committee then reported that the Vare ticket spent $785,000 in this primary.

Pending the examination of the candidates, Chairman Nye, of the senate committee, said tonight he had heard of no untoward incidents in the bitterly contested Pennsylvania senatorial primary of last Tuesday which might necessitate inquiry.

All three candidates are expected to appear before the committee tomorrow with itemized accounts of their campaign costs. There have been intimations of the extent of the expenditures in the primary race.

Senator Nye made it clear tonight that neither he nor his committee was setting up any yardstick by which to measure campaign expenditures and to limit the spenders.

"Our duty is to investigate and determine the amounts spent," said Senator Nye. "It is up to the senate to say whether these expenditures are excessive."

American Matador Makes Mixed Showing

ZARAGOZA, Spain, May 25.—(AP)—Sidney Franklin, Spain's only American matador, was both applauded and booed in the bull ring here this afternoon during his third fight since he was gored at Madrid several months ago.

The Brooklyn bullfighter, after courageous and skillful capework, killed his first bull, winning the applause of the "Aficionados."

To dispatch the second bull, however, Franklin had to make sword thrusts, failing four times to pierce a vital spot. This is considered by fans much as American fans consider fumbled footballs and muffed flies.

The spectators began to shout jokes and threw several cushions. The judge gave Franklin "first warning," which is an indication that the matador must hurry in killing the bull.

If "third warning" is reached, which rarely happens, the matador is disgraced and his career ended. This fate Franklin escaped by killing the bull before the "second warning" came.

Miami Agents Seek To Check Rum Flow

MIAMI, Fla., May 25.—(AP)—Local prohibition enforcement agencies were reported today to have inaugurated a rigid system of investigation into recent shipments of carload lots of assorted liquors from southeastern Florida into northern states.

During the last few weeks numerous carload shipments of liquor have been seized in various places in the north. The shipments for the most part have been sent from towns along the southeastern coast of Florida, apparently consigned under fictitious names.

The shipments have been described on way bills as lumber, fruit or vegetables, and have been surrounded by layers of the various commodities as a blind in case of inspection.

The liquor is believed to have been run into the southeastern part of the state from the British island of Bimini, in the lower Bahamas, known for years as a transfer point for foreign liquor surreptitiously brought into the United States.

It could not be learned whether prohibition agencies were working with information as to the consignors of the shipments.

Girl Hangs Self Playing in Swing

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 25.—(AP)—The body of 9-year-old Margie Clifton was found dangling today from a rope that swung from a rafter in the family garage.

The coroner, after investigating, said he believed the small girl accidentally caught her head in a loop at the end of the rope when she jumped off a tool box to give herself a start at swinging. Physicians pronounced death due to strangulation.

A few minutes before, Margie had been playing in the yard with other children. Tiring of them, she went to the garage. The children found her swinging body and ran and told her father.

CHURCH OF PILGRIMS DEDICATION IS HELD

Gift of 20,000 Southern Presbyterians Consecrated at Capital.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—Built on the contributions of more than 22,000 southern Presbyterians, the Church of the Pilgrims was dedicated here today by leaders of the church from all over the south.

A large group of the delegates attending the seventieth general assembly of Southern Presbyterian Churches at Charlottesville, Va., augmented the congregation which heard Reverend William Ray Doyns, retiring moderator of the assembly, deliver the dedicatory sermon.

The church, a spacious gothic edifice recently completed after three years of construction, was authorized by the assembly in 1920, and since then the work of collecting funds for its erection had been in progress.

Reverend D. Clay Lilly, of Winston-Salem, chairman of the general assembly committee in charge of starting the fund-raising, delivered a prayer at the morning dedicatory services, and a benediction was pronounced by Reverend W. L. Darby, secretary of the Washington Federation of Churches.

Tonight Reverend James I. Vance, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Nashville, Tenn., preached a sermon dedicating the church pulpit and communion table. This was followed by prayers of Reverend E. W. Smith, secretary of foreign missions of the assembly, and Rev. S. L. Morris.

The concluding benediction was pronounced by Rev. Andrew R. Bird, pastor, who said the erection of this church in the capital represented "an appreciation by the people of the country at large of the importance of a strong Christian atmosphere in the solution of the national and international problems facing our day."

Next Sunday the church organ, gift of Mrs. Cameron Morrison, wife of the former governor of North Carolina, is to be dedicated by Rev. Neal L. Anderson, of Savannah, Ga. Many of the pews in the church have been donated by individuals from various southern cities. Each bears the name of its donor.

Rev. Robert S. Campbell, of Asheville, N. C., broke ground for the edifice in June, 1927.

Maid Burns To Death In Summer Cottage

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., May 25.—(AP)—A maid employed by Lucien

Hamilton Tyng, New York financial executive, was burned to death when flames destroyed the Tyng summer cottage early today. Mr. and Mrs. Tyng, awakened by the smoke, leaped from the roof of their porch to escape the fire and were taken to a hospital suffering from injuries and shock.

Mr. Tyng for more than 25 years has been interested in financing public utilities. His wife is the former Miss Ethel Hunt.

The maid, Miss Anna O'Grady, 30, was trapped by the flames and unable to escape. Horace Greene, of New York, a guest, was saved by servants, who carried him from the building, but he was painfully burned.

The cause of the fire remained a mystery.

53 Awards Announced By Pennsylvania U.

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.—(AP)—Dr. H. Lamar Crosby, dean of the graduate school of the University of Pennsylvania, today announced the award of 18 fellowships and 35 scholarships by the school. The awards were received by men and women graduates of 32 universities and colleges in this and foreign countries.

A Jussierand traveling fellowship carrying a stipend of $800 was awarded to William F. Falls, of Salisbury, N. C.

Bell's Granddaughter Marries European

BOIRBON-MARLOTTE, France, May 25.—(AP)—Miss Barbara Lathrop Fairchild, daughter of Dr. David Fairchild, of the United States department of agriculture, was married here yesterday to Leonard R. Muller, of Geneva, Switzerland, and Paris.

The ceremony took place in the courtyard of the country home of Theo Spicer-Simon, sculptor. Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society, of Washington, and Mrs. Grosvenor, uncle and aunt of the bride, came from the United States especially to attend the wedding.

Miss Gloria Grosvenor was a bridesmaid. The bride is a granddaughter of the late inventor, Alexander Graham Bell.

Arrested 100 Times On Charge of Drunk

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 25.—(AP) John Holland never sought favors before, but when he was placed in jail today, he asked for parole until the Monday court session.

"It's a special occasion" he told Police Lieutenant Walter Gibbons. "This makes the hundredth time I've been arrested, and I want to get out and celebrate."

Gibbons began a check of the records, but indicated he wasn't in the mood for granting favors.

Holland was charged with drunkenness.

Amy Johnson Leaves On Last Leg of Flight

PORT DAIRWIN, Australia, May 26 (Monday).—(AP)—Miss Amy Johnson, who leaped into fame as Britain's premier aviatrix by her 10-day flight from England to Australia, left here at 7:30 a. m. today for Sydney. She landed here yesterday from the island of Timor and was given an ovation.

Sydney is nearly 2,000 miles south-east of this city. Miss Johnson will not attempt the flight in a single jump.

Turn waste into luxury with GAS HEAT Prove its economy at our risk...

ASHES, soot, smoke and grime are wasted fuel. They cost you money, and to get rid of them by cleaning, scrubbing and painting costs you more money.

What you pay for them would pay for the luxurious comfort of gas heat—because the fuel you pay for in gas heat goes into heating your home rather than up the chimney in smoke or into the ash can in ashes and cinders.

What you buy in gas heat is what you get—clean, silent, even heat, with no waste. What you pay for in less efficient fuels is also heat, but in such a form that only a small portion of it goes into your home to make it comfortable. Nearly two-thirds of the heat in coal, for example, is entirely wasted in the ordinary furnace. But for it you pay the price of luxury in wasted heat and in fighting grime.

On chilly mornings and cool days in Spring and Fall it is no luxury to shiver uncomfortably—but if you fire your furnace with old-fashioned fuels it burns all day when you do not need it, wasting fuel. Even in midwinter, there are many days when you need very little heat, but you must keep your furnace going, wasting fuel.

With gas heat you get just the right amount whenever you need it to make you comfortable—and no more. Automatically it goes out, and you use no more fuel until you need it again—and automatically then it comes on again, before you realize that you need it. Gas heat is even, constant heat, just the right temperature in your home all the time, without your needing to give it a thought.

Luxury, certainly. But it is the luxury bought by the absence of waste, and which saves you money instead of being expensive.

WHY NOT KNOW WHAT GAS HEAT WOULD COST YOU?

WE WILL, without cost or obligation on your part, make a heating survey of your home, which will be accurate and dependable.

We will then, if you wish, let you try it in your own furnace until December first, one-sixth of the heating season. You may then, simply by multiplying your costs for that time by six arrive at your full season's cost. In the meantime you may put it to any test you wish, in your own way, for comfort and convenience. If you wish then to keep it permanently you may easily do so—for the small cost of the equipment may be paid in convenient monthly sums, with your gas bill.

If you do not, we will remove it at our expense and replace your present grates, without injury to your furnace, and we will refund to you every penny you have paid on the equipment.

Only Six Days To Win

Constitution's Prize Campaign Ends at 9 P. M. May 31

The great credit battle for 18 automobiles, gold awards and 20 Atwater Kent Radios is rushing to a close! Only six days remain of The Atlanta Constitution's $25,000 prize campaign.

Who will win the $3,120 Pierce-Arrow Sedan and $1,000 in Gold? Who will win the $2,835 Franklin Sedan and $500 in gold? Who will be the winners of the other awards?

The new and final credit schedule, effective during this last week of the campaign, offers to every candidate the opportunity of WINNING.

These last days are swathed in a veil of uncertainty. In so far as the human mind can see, the outcome is impenetrable. Who are they who will stand at the close--victorious--where their energy has brought them?

You can answer for yourself in these next six days!

Final Rules and Instructions--Read Carefully

As a matter of caution and to guard against the possibility of misunderstanding during the closing days of the campaign, herewith are printed the final instructions which must be observed by candidates. Read every line carefully.

- 1--All contract subscriptions are received subject to verification and acceptance of The Atlanta Constitution and any contract subscription turned in and not accepted by The Constitution must be substituted with a bona-fide new acceptable subscription and no prize or commission will be given to the candidate until his or her subscriptions have been made good and accepted by The Constitution. Any cash in advance subscription turned in as New and verified as Old, must be substituted with a bona-fide NEW cash in advance subscription to The Constitution.
- 2--Check all receipts (ballots) carefully given you for covering subscriptions turned in. Pay particular attention to receipts covering remittances where "Second Payments" were included; also receipts covering cash payments on contracts and extensions on contracts. If you have any corrections to be made, notify the Campaign Manager in person or writing and return the receipts for proper correction. The Atlanta Constitution will not be responsible for errors, unless notification is given, after which corrections will be made.
- 3--None of the official receipts (ballots) issued and given to candidates are to be returned to the Campaign Department, unless for corrections, these are your records and are to be held by you.
- 4--Under no conditions may a transfer of credits be effected between candidates. This is an absolute rule and will be strictly enforced.
- 5--The final credit schedule, as published, is in force during the final week of the campaign.
- 6--Subscriptions may be turned in personally at the campaign headquarters in The Constitution Building or sent in by mail up to the closing hour of the campaign, 9 P. M., May 31, 1930.

- 7--On Saturday, May 31, the closing day of the campaign, all subscriptions and remittances turned in at the campaign headquarters should be placed in a sealed envelope and deposited in the locked and sealed Ballot Box at campaign headquarters which will be in charge of Ernst & Ernst, public accountants and auditors.

- 8--Subscriptions that are mailed must be addressed to The Atlanta Constitution Campaign Department, Atlanta, Georgia, and the envelope containing the subscriptions must show a postmark of having been mailed on or before 9 P. M., May 31, 1930. Subscriptions that are mailed must reach the Campaign Department of The Constitution on or before 6 P. M., June 4, 1930. The Atlanta Constitution will not be responsible for any mail delayed, even though properly postmarked, which fails to arrive at the Campaign Department within the specified time. From now on subscriptions mailed should be sent "Special Delivery."

- 9--"Second Payments" must be so marked and amount of first payment given, and properly entered on Remittance Sheet. "Extensions" on contract subscriptions, "Cash Paid" on contracts and "Cash Turned In" for extension on contracts must be properly marked and entered on the Contract Order Sheets and Remittance Sheets.

- 10--Cash must accompany all prepaid subscriptions. No sums of money will be accepted, the name of subscriber to follow later.

- 11--Subscriptions are verified and candidates are warned to be very careful in marking their prepaid subscriptions New or Old. The candidate is responsible for entry of subscriptions on remittance sheets. "Switching" or changing an old subscriber to a new one will only cause regret to the candidate, so be sure and enter your subscriptions properly.

- 12--Absolutely no subscription money will be refunded.

STANDINGS CHANGED LAST TIME SUNDAY

The standing of the candidates as they appear below is the same that was published Sunday and will remain the same until the final count is made by the auditors.

IS YOUR NAME IN THE RIGHT DISTRICT?

Each candidate must be entered in the district according to the address given to the campaign department. Candidates were allowed to enter from the district in which he or she resides or from the district in which he or she is employed. If you are not entered in the proper district, notify the campaign department at once. No candidate will be allowed to change from the district as now entered unless it is shown that they are not properly listed.

DR. CHRISTIE SPEAKS AT G. M. A. SERVICES

Baccalaureate Sermon Opens Commencement Program at College Park School.

The Georgia Military academy commencement program officially began Sunday morning when Dr. L. R. Christie, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the more than 600 graduates of the academy. The services were held in the school gymnasium and were attended by the 400 G. M. A. cadets and many Atlanta and College Park visitors. "The Coming Aristocracy" was Dr. Christie's subject.

In the afternoon the cadet corps gave the last Sunday afternoon dress parade of the school year. The largest crowd of visitors for the year was on hand to encourage the cadets in the last effort before an Atlanta assemblage.

At 10 o'clock this morning Coach Frank Anderson, of Oglethorpe University, will preside at the exercises when athletic medals, diplomas and monograms will be presented to winning cadets. Members of the school rifle team, in addition to their manlyship badges, this year will be presented with school monograms also.

Senior class day exercises will take place this afternoon, to be followed at 8 o'clock tonight by the annual oratorical contest. The program for the contest follows:

Senior Class—Charles B. Evans, Fort Valley, "The True Science of Civilization"; Randolph W. Throver, Tampa, Fla., "The Progress of Science"; William M. Hanks, Jr., Daytona Beach, Fla., "The Aristocracy"; Thomas J. Shave, Jr., Fernandino, Fla., "Modern Youth."

Junior Class—Jack T. DeLamotte, Atlanta, "Abraham Lincoln, by Henry Waterson"; Walter C. Bateman, Jr., Asheville, N. C., "Patrick Henry's Address."

Sophomore Class—Edgar Neal Smith, Jr., Albemarle, N. C., "The Black Horse and His Rider"; Ramon R. Espino, Oriente, Cuba, "The Soldier's Reprieve"; David M. Luntz, Atlanta, "The New Patriotism."

Children's Hospital To Have Benefit.

NANNY'S QUICK WIT.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Alas, for those whose wits are slow! Their chance is small to live or grow. —Nanny Meadow Mouse.

A wandering Merry Little Breeze had done Nanny and Danny Meadow Mouse a good turn. It had brought them the scent of Reddy Fox and it had this just in time. So strong was that scent that Danny and Nanny knew that Reddy was very near. They would have to hide and hide quickly. Danny was in despair. This was a strange place to him and he didn't know a single hiding place close at hand. Perhaps Nanny read this in his face. Anyway, she took to her heels and ran past Danny.

"Follow me," she squeaked. "Because he didn't know what else to do, Danny did follow her. He raced right along at her heels, wondering all the time where she was going. Straight to the foot of a certain tree she raced, Danny at her heels. This tree didn't grow quite straight out of the ground. For a little way it slanted somewhat. Up the trunk of this tree Nanny led the way.

"Where are you going?" panted Danny. Nanny didn't stop to reply. There was a grapevine twisted in this tree. Up this vine Nanny climbed and Danny kept on because he knew he could go where Nanny could go and to remain below was to be gobbled up by Reddy Fox. Up they went and presently they came to a queer thing up there in that tree. At least Danny thought it was queer. It was a tin oil can—a gallon can with a round opening in one end. A little branch passed this opening. Nanny climbed up on this branch and popped into that opening. Danny followed. It was dark inside, but right away Danny discovered that there was a comfortable bed of dry grass there.

"He's looking up here with the hungriest look in his eyes."

"What place is this?" panted Danny. "A safe place," squeaked Nanny. "It's our new home. This is where we are going to live."

"I thought you didn't have a home," said Danny. "You said you were trying to decide whether to live in the bushes or out on the Green Meadows."

"So I was, Danny, so I was," replied Nanny. "You see, I hadn't thought of this place as a home. No, sir, I hadn't thought of it as a home. This old can was over on the green meadows when I first found it and I thought then it would make a wonderful home if only you were with me. Now I think just the same thing. You are with me and it would make a wonderful home. Just peep outside and look down."

Danny did as he was told. He poked his head out of the round opening and looked down. Then he drew back hurriedly. "He's there!" whispered Danny.

"Who's there?" inquired Nanny, pretending not to know.

"Reddy Fox," replied Danny. "He's looking up here with the hungriest look in his eyes."

Nanny chuckled. "We've got the finest home we've ever had, Danny Meadow Mouse," said she. "If this was on the ground, we should be quite safe inside it, for Reddy Fox tried to get me in it when it was on the ground. He couldn't. But he might have caught me by laying in wait outside until I had to come out. Up here we are quite safe, because always before we go down on the ground we can look all around. Nobody can get us up here. It's the safest place in all the great world for us. We'll bring up a lot of grass and make the finest kind of a bed. Oh, Danny I'm so glad you found me!"

"So am I," replied Danny in that squeaky little voice of his. (Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

Young Thieves Prove They Have Honor

CHICAGO, May 25.—(AP)—The old saw about honor among thieves stood up through the robbery of a Chicago banker and his woman companion early today.

Charles Fernald, official of the Continental Illinois Trust Co., had just accompanied Mrs. Shea M. Smith to her home when they were held up. The pair of youthful bandits demanded Mrs. Smith's jewels.

"Leave her alone and I'll give you these," the bandit said, holding a costly wrist watch, a piece of jade and $100 in bills.

The robbers accepted his valuables, stopped and returned to the woman's purse.

"But that's breaking your agreement," Fernald protested.

The hold-up man restored the purse and made off in haste. Fernald reported the affair to police, adding he had saved Mrs. Smith's jewelry—worth $10,000.

Lient. W. A. Matheny To Get Cheney Award

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—The Cheney award, conferred annually upon an individual for extreme fortitude or self-sacrifice in connection with aircraft, will be presented tomorrow to Lieutenant William A. Matheny, of the army air corps, for an act of valor performed last year at Managua, Nicaragua.

Assistant Secretary of War Davis will confer the award at Bolling field flying field. The act which resulted in a unanimous recommendation of the board of the air corps that Lieutenant Matheny be presented with the award involved his attempt to save the life of a brother officer who was with him when the plane in which they were flying crashed and burst into flames. The officer later died and Lieutenant Matheny was confined to a hospital for three weeks as a result of severe burns.

Wet Cuba Planning To Close Six Jails

HAVANA, Cuba, May 25.—(AP)—Although the national budget commission in charge of reducing expenditures of the government for the next fiscal year beginning July 1 has been silent as to where the expense cuttings are to be made, it is reported here that several city jails will be eliminated from the general budget of the department of the interior.

These, the report says, will be the city jails at Guinesa, Jaruco, Cardenas, Moron and Manzanillo.

The first two are in the provinces of Havana, that of Cardenas is in Matanzas province, Moron is in Camaguey and Manzanillo is in Oriente.

All honorably discharged veterans of the military service of the United States are invited to attend and participate in the meeting.

Negro Educational Work Is Making Rapid Progress

The little red schoolhouse has taken a new lease on life so far as the negro children of Georgia are concerned. New buildings are being constructed, many of them of red brick, negro teachers are rushing into the work, to pass on their knowledge to others of their race and the state department of education is lending a helping hand wherever possible.

Walter C. Hill, special supervisor of negro education in Georgia for the past 10 years, tells of some of the work already accomplished, and of the still greater amount yet to be done. Last year, Mr. Hill said, 246,019 of Georgia's negro children of the 3,419,963 of school age were enrolled, and negro residents of the state contributed $215,237 to the support of their schools. The bulk of the money used for development of negro education came from out of state sources, however, according to Mr. Hill, due in large measure to the "unusual situation" regarding Georgia's school fund, which has made it impossible for several years to support both white and colored schools adequately.

Northern Funds Doing Work. Accordingly, it is the money of Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, the late Anna T. Jeanes, of Philadelphia, and the late John F. Slater, an easterner, upon which the department depends largely for buildings and upkeep of negro schools. At present there are "Rosenwald schools" in 84 Georgia counties, according to Mr. Hill. This means, he said, that the Rosenwald fund directors co-operate with the state department of education in the building and equipping of modern public schoolhouses. The larger the school the more the directors of the fund contribute to its cost and upkeep.

From the Slater fund $16,690 was used last year for promoting high schools and junior high schools, in 27 counties, while the Anna T. Jeanes fund provided industrial supervisors who taught sewing, basket weaving, rug-making and other home arts in 28 counties. We are trying to bring the negro school into closer relationship with the homes of the pupils," said Mr. Hill. "Our great trouble has been that we were too abstract in our teachings. But now we try to demonstrate, and have the pupils actually do what they should know how to do. If they are to be provided with a practical education which will enable them to get jobs which provide respectful and comfortable living."

There is nothing wrong with the average negro child's mind, according to Mr. Hill. They learn as quickly in most instances as the white child, with the one exception that they lack background for the refinements of a modern education. For that reason it is the homely subjects, bricklaying, carpentry, plastering, machine work, cooking, domestic science and the other industrial arts that are being taught. "At this very time the people of Columbus are building, with assistance of the state and others, one of the most modern negro institutions in the south," said Mr. Hill. "Completed it will cost more than $100,000 and every need practically of the negro child will be provided for. And it is more schools like that one will be that we need in Georgia. They are willing enough, and some of the negro parents suffer real hardship in order that their children may stay in the classroom."

Economic pressure at home is the greatest single element working against the negro student's chances of finishing his school work, however, records of the school department show. Few get into high school because they have to go to work as quickly as they reach working age and can get a job, and for that reason negro high schools are made up almost entirely of girls, Mr. Hill said.

It also is unfortunate at the present, he declared, that the larger negro boys in school in many cases represent those of weaker intellect. "The intelligent boy can get a job and keep it," he said, "while his weaker brother cannot, and therefore remains in school. It forms one of our big problems, but we are working it out quickly as possible, and hope within the next few years to be able to provide all deserving negro children with facilities for at least a good, practical education."

Body of Negro Man Is Found in Ash Pit

Negro workmen cleaning out the ash pit back of the central plant of the Atlantic Ice & Coal Company, 16 Collins street, Sunday afternoon found the body of a negro later identified as Joe Gibson, alias "Dray back."

Negroes who worked about the plant identified him and told police it was their opinion he had crawled in the pit eight days ago, when it was last cleaned, and gone to sleep. Ashes accumulated on him and he suffocated, they thought.

Coroner Paul Donehoo announced he would hold an inquest today. The body was discovered by Joe Beverly, negro employee at the plant.

Tablet To Honor Creator of Parks

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—A perpetual bronze memorial to the work of the late Stephen T. Mather, "creator of the national parks of the United States," will be placed in every national park and monument.

John Hays Hammond, chairman of the Mather appreciation committee, said in announcing the work of Mather either by states or communities or the creation of another national park to be named for him.

The committee proposes to secure the services of an outstanding sculptor to prepare a suitable bronze plaque to be placed in each of the 23 national parks and 33 national forests," he said. "This plaque would carry in relief the bust of Stephen T. Mather, accompanied by his name and suitable epitome of his work; also a sentence or two from his writings to carry his ideals to each and every visitor to the national parks for all time to come."

BUILDING CONTRACTS REACH HUGE TOTAL

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—The value of new contracts let for public works and utilities construction in the United States during the first four months of the present year was announced today by Secretary of Commerce Lamont as $422,910,000.

He said that total was 30 per cent in excess of similar contracts let during the same period last year. The record was declared to be "a significant and highly gratifying advance, indicating effective co-operation of all concerned" in President Hoover's effort to stimulate general business.

The largest single item of the department's compilation was furnished by the road building program, the total expenditure on which for the first four months was indicated at $196,678,000, against $142,000,000 during the same period last year.

In the endeavor to indicate what that sum means in terms of employment, the statement said during recent years the number of men employed in the country on road construction during the first quarter has averaged 200,000, which number has customarily increased to 400,000 during the second quarter. ## Cuban Nationalists Lay Riot to General

HAVANA, Cuba, May 25.—(AP)—Charging that General Alberto Herrera, chief of staff of the Cuban army, was directly responsible for the army clash with civilians at Artemisa, last Sunday, nationalist chiefs yesterday posted bonds in order to carry forward their complaint.

Among those who appeared before the supreme court of justice and placed bonds of $500 each were Colonel Carlos Menditea, Colonel Mendez Penate, Aurelio Havia, and Dr. Cosme de la Torre, former president of the League of Nations.

It makes clothes 100% efficient

this through-and-through dry cleaning

When we say a garment is 100% efficient, we mean it wears as long as that material should wear, and looks its best all the time you're wearing it. Our through-and-through dry cleaning is such a fine, careful service, it truly makes your wardrobe 100% efficient! You don't need so many garments when we clean them regularly. They stay well-groomed—look finer and wear longer.

Why we name it

"through-and-through" dry cleaning

We dry clean your garment all the way through. Every thread of it, inside and out, becomes exquisitely clean. This is worth far more to your garment than any "sponging off" methods. We use clean, crystal-clear cleansing-fluid on every single garment. We use hundreds of gallons of it on each article. The soil is literally washed away—the fabric is revived. It's sterilized, too.

The pressing and finishing is just as careful and thorough. Your garment is smooth, wrinkle-free, well finished, from the lapel of the coat to the tiniest corner of pocket lining. Through-and-through dry cleaning means giving a garment new cleanliness—new life—new good looks.

PASSION FLOWER

By Kathleen Norris

"Well, anyway, Dulce has no Tommy, and she has no Margaret!"

Cassy found herself arguing ridiculously, as with her head against Margaret's pillow, she, too, fell into a doze.

Meantime Dulce had asked Dan if he would walk with her up to the stables; she had to talk to Pedro.

"Do you ride, Dan?"

"Never been on a horse in my life, that I remember," he answered her, as they went.

"I was only 17 when Frank Place came up here to live," Dulce confided suddenly. "He was handsome, and something of a rake, and of course I thought he was marvelous. My father loathed him from the start, and that attracted me to him, too."

"We used to say, in those days, that we'd raise fancy stock and go all over everywhere to horse shows, taking blue ribbons. I'll show you my ribbon room. But afterward, of course, Frank was no good."

They walked along, and the beauty of the glowing, airless spring noon deepened like a spell about them. The air was rich with flower scents, and the smell of turned earth and new grass.

"But then how'd you happen to marry Mr. Varney, Dulce?"

"Lou? Well, he was the trustee, you know. My father had always loved him, and so I, for that matter. And I was so bitterly lonely, Dan."

Her voice shook, and glancing at her, he saw that her beautiful dark eyes were filled with tears.

Going back, she said she would take him through a lane that was a short cut. It led to the farmyard; chickens were fluffing in last year's fallen leaves as they walked through. The sun, descending in the west, smote through the young leaves of a long line of feathery poplar trees, in a blaze of glory.

Suddenly Dulce stopped her companion, wheeling about in front of him, laying a hand on his shoulder. Her face, under the beautiful white hat, was a little pale; rings of her fair hair clung to her temples with heat.

"Dan, there's something I want to say to you—"

"Shoot!" he encouraged her sympathetically, looking down at her with his smile that was partly the smile of a faun, and partly the wistful look of a puzzled little boy.

"If I do," Dulce said, her eyes raised to his, her face deadly serious, "I'm going to regret it all my life!"

The color crept up to his cheeks; his own face became tense, quite unsmiling. "Go ahead," he said.

"Dan," she whispered, beginning to tremble, "can't you see how it is with me?"

Dan continued to regard her in silence; the red deepening in his cheeks.

"You've changed my whole life for me," Dulce said. "I'm mad about you! I'm MAD about you, Dan. I never dreamed it—I didn't want—I've been fighting it, God knows! But I have it the way they have it in books, Dan. I want your arms about me—once," she whispered, throwing her head back, shutting her eyes. "I want you to kiss me!"

"Dulce—Dan said, putting his arms about her, holding her close to him, his face against hers, as he kissed her.

The smothered flame burned all through the hot summer and into the fall. Dan was a man possessed, he moved blindly through the days and nights, consumed only by one need; the need to see Dulce, to hear her voice, to hold her.

For the rest, he was in a dream. There was a flourishing modern garage in the dream, toward which two long lines of twinkling cars were always converging. And there was a bare ranch house in the dream, with willows and peppers and chickens indistinctly mixed in its back yard, and a baby girl often asleep on the side porch, in a shabby perambulator that had once cost nine dollars, second hand.

There was a scary little boy shouting "Daddy!" and routing the flying flies. There were other figures, a Japanese woman helping to put up tomatoes, and an old woman tottering about the big, shabby kitchen, and there was, of course, Cassy.

Cassy, brown-skinned, lean and active and full of plans; a sweet woman.

FORESTRY DELEGATES WILL GATHER TODAY

Business Session To Be Held
Prior to Convention Opening Tuesday.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 25.—(AP)—Georgia Forestry Association will hold a business session Monday as a prelude to the larger meeting of the Georgia commercial forestry conference which convenes Tuesday and lasts three days.

Tuesday evening a banquet will be held at which Major General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, will be the principal speaker.

The Georgia commercial forestry conference has been arranged by chambers of commerce of the principal cities of the state and 30 or 40 nationally known forestry experts, and those familiar with kindred or associated matters are expected here.

The conference was called by representatives of commercial, industrial, recreational and civic interests who have formed a general committee and arranged the program with the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

This conference is for the development of commercial forestry as a means of perpetuating Georgia's forest resources and is dedicated to the public interests.

Among the out of the state-speakers will be H. L. Baker, state forester of Florida; R. D. Garver, forest products laboratories, Madison, Wis.; Austin Cary, U. S. forest service, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Charles H. Herty, industrial chemist, New York; Richard Woods Edmonds, Manufacturers Record, Baltimore, Md.; Dr. W. W. Skinner, department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.; E. A. Sterling, New York; Dr. C. C. Gray, chief, division of land resources, Washington, D. C.; Leith Wyman, Starke, Fla.; and W. M. Wiley, Sharps, West Va.

Frank Danielly Dies in Roberta

ROBERTA, Ga., May 25.—(AP)—Frank Danielly, 81, former state forester of Georgia, died here today.

Prior to last December Mr. Danielly had served for 16 years as mayor of Roberta.

He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Emma Lesueur; two daughters, Mrs. Brown Walker and Miss Florence Danielly; grandchildren, Emily Walker, and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence in Roberta, Rev. J. A. Monson, of Atlanta, officiating.

QUILLIAN ADDRESSES WESLEYAN STUDENTS

MACON, Ga., May 25.—(AP)—In a short talk to the students of Wesleyan College at lunch Sunday, Dr. W. F. Quillian, president, informed them that they "need not be disturbed" over his acceptance of the position of general secretary of the board of Christian education of the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

He said that he was going to render every possible service to Wesleyan College throughout the years to come and promised to use every opportunity to strengthen Wesleyan College.

His remarks were brief. He and Mrs. Quillian had just returned from the meeting of the general conference in Dallas, Texas. He said he would make a more extended talk to the students and the members of the faculty at chapel on Tuesday.

It was announced upon the return of Dr. Quillian that the first meeting of the new board of Christian education, which is composed of five bishops and 42 laymen and ministers representing every conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, was held in Dallas on Thursday, Dr. Walter Anthony, of Savannah, is the member of the board from the South Georgia conference.

Bishop E. D. Moulton has been chosen chairman of the board, and Bishop Paul B. Kopp, vice chairman, while Dr. L. H. Estes is the recording secretary of the board.

The next meeting of the board will undoubtedly be held at Lake Junaluska, N. C., in July, according to Dr. Quillian.

Dr. Quillian confirmed the report that at a meeting of the board of trustees of Wesleyan College on Friday night at 8 o'clock the whole question of selecting his successor as president of Wesleyan College will be taken up.

"It is my intention to stand by Wesleyan College, until satisfactory arrangements can be made," said Dr. Quillian. "The new position to which I have been elected will not require my full time during this summer, for it is during that period that the meeting of the three boards—Epworth League board, Sunday school board and the board of education—will be in process of completion."

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 25.—(AP)—A called meeting of the Lutheran Synod of Georgia and Alabama will be held at the Lutheran Church of the Ascension here Tuesday, June 3, for the purpose of deciding the part to be assumed by the synod toward the financial support of Newberry College in South Carolina. This has been requested by the South Carolina synod. Florida has also been asked to decide its attitude.

On Wednesday, June 4, a joint meeting of the Ebenezer and North-ern conferences will be held to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Augsburg confession. The program for this meeting will consist of addresses by Rev. S. N. Carpenter, Birmingham, Ala.; Rev. H. J. Black, Savannah, and Rev. John L. Yost, Atlanta.

FITZGERALD YOUTH KIDNAPPED, DRUGGED

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 25.—(AP)—Howard Garrison, 17, high school student at Fitzgerald, Ga., who told police that he had been kidnapped and given drugged whisky, is being held at police headquarters here for relatives.

The youth said he is the son of Wiley Garrison, Georgia public school official, and that he had made his way here from a secluded spot on the mountain near Rossville, Ga., this morning and hunted up a policeman.

Young Garrison says he was not harmed by his captors except that he was forcibly held and doped liquor poured down his throat by two masked men, one a negro and the other white.

He said the kidnappers entered his home near Fitzgerald early Saturday night and that he was awakened by being throttled by the white intruder who warned him not to make an outcry. The man then tied a handkerchief over the boy's mouth and demanded the keys to his father's automobile, which were produced.

The following have finished the two-year normal course: Miss Mary Bartlett, Bowdon; Miss Gheraline Duke, Bowdon; Lewis Ham, Franklin; Miss Hallie Haynes, Villa Rica; Miss Helen Lane, Franklin; Miss Grace Lee, Winston; Miss Rosa Mae McCollum, of Grantville; Miss Etta McElroy, of Buchanan; Miss Montague, of Franklin; Miss Marie Nellie Roop, of Bowdon; Miss Blanche Shellnutt, of Bremen; Mrs. D. Convention.

MACON, Ga., May 25.—(AP)—Nearly 2,000 persons are expected here this coming week to attend the sessions of the grand encampment, the grand lodge and the Rebekah assembly—the three divisions of the Odd Fellows lodge.

The first meeting of the grand lodge of Georgia, I. O. O. F., was held here in 1851. The Rebekah assembly was instituted here in 1891.

General Trade Slow-Down Misses Movie, Talkie Houses

BY R. L. BARNUM.
NEW YORK, May 25.—In the decline that has occurred in the stock market from this year's average high, touched around the middle of April, no group of stocks has been better than the so-called amusement shares. There are good reasons for this.

Unlike industrial companies and the railroads, "movie" companies are not suffering from the widespread slowing down in general trade. Earnings of movie companies so far this year show a gain over 1929. The movie industry in its present form is comparatively new and expansion is still under way. Unlike some others it did not in 1929 reach the "saturation" point. It is true that many people in this country are out of regular employment. From the continued gains in earnings of movie companies, however, it is plain that there are still enough people working, or in funds, to make this comparatively low cost form of amusement increasingly popular.

It was exactly 25 years ago next month that the first motion picture theater opened in Pittsburgh. The first motion picture was shown by Edison in 1896, but only on short reels in vaudeville houses, usually at the end of the programs. The first all-motion picture was shown in Pittsburgh in June of 1905 in a remodeled storehouse, having exactly 96 seats with two reels running from 12 to 20 minutes. The pictures ran continuously from 7 in the morning until midnight with music furnished by a phonograph. The venture was a financial success. The first all-motion picture shown in Pittsburgh in June of 1905 in a remodeled storehouse, having exactly 96 seats with two reels running from 12 to 20 minutes. The pictures ran continuously from 7 in the morning until midnight with music furnished by a phonograph. The venture was a financial success.

Figures just compiled show that today there are 22,000 motion picture theaters in this country with an average daily attendance for all of 17,000,000 people. Weekly attendance is now averaging over 115,000,000, or equal to nearly the entire population of the country.

Contrasted with the "nickelodeon" opened in Pittsburgh in June of 1905 a feature picture today runs from one to two hours, with the orchestra alone at one of the large houses costing from $500,000 to $1,000,000 a year. Wall Street bankers acting for the movie industry point out that a single film today may cost as much as $100,000 and the average full length picture anywhere from $100,000 to $300,000. The film exchanges are now handling 25,000 miles of entertainment film daily, with the capital invested in the industry reaching the staggering total of $2,000,000,000.

Regular employment is being given to 225,000 people, 110,000 in the distribution, 30,000 in other capacities. The annual pay roll is now $750,000,000.

Until a couple of years ago, moving pictures ran along the same lines as the earliest productions. Introduction of "talkies" two years ago put new life into the industry. For years movies were run by so-called independents. Only a few years ago groups began to buy up control of theaters and build new ones. Today several of these large groups control every phase of the industry from beginning to end. Paramount, Famous Lasky Corporation, producer, distributor and exhibitor of movies, now operates 975 theaters in this country and others abroad. Warner Brothers and allied corporations operate

350 theatres; Loews, 260, including vaudeville houses; Fox, 200; Universal Picture Company, 250; Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation 200.

Movie Gains Impetus
Before the end of 1929 4,000 important movie houses in the country had been wired for sound pictures, used exclusively. This was only 20 per cent of the total but this 20 per cent of the total took in 80 per cent of the annual box office receipts of the industry, amounting to $800,000,000. Predictions are being made today that before the end of 1931 all but the smallest of the movie houses in this country will be equipped for "talkies." Bankers here in the financial district, closely related to the movie industry, say that the cost so far for changing over to the "talkies" has been $500,000,000, while the wiring alone of theatres has meant a capital outlay of $100,000,000.

So far the movie industry has been largely American. Six per cent of all pictures being produced in this country. Last year our exports of films amounted to $28,100,480 linear feet. This was an increase of 27 per cent over 1928. Income from abroad, including that from foreign theatres owned or controlled, amounted last year to $10,000,000. According to rumors heard here this week, Fox Film is now getting ready to spend $20,000,000 in England to produce pictures there. Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation already has plans well under way to produce pictures abroad, following the example of Henry Ford. The industry's production is not only lower cost production but the large picture production is beginning to feel that foreign produced pictures will have a better market abroad.

Only a few months ago the government started a suit under the Sherman act to determine if there is a restraint of trade in the combination built up by Fox Film. Why this company was singled out was not made plain as it is not the largest. Wall Street understands that this is a test case for the industry as a whole, one that will develop that there still remains plenty of competition.

Bendix Aviation Buys Charles Cory Firm

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—The Bendix Aviation Corporation, parent organization of several airplane and motor accessory producers, has purchased the Charles Cory & Son Corporation, of New York, established for 90 years in the marine equipment industry, an announcement today said.

The purchase was described as marking the entrance of the automotive industry into the marine field, since General Motors holds a heavy interest in the Bendix enterprises. The corporation was bought by Bendix from the Irving Trust Company, equity receiver appointed last February for the Cory concern.

A. P. Hommer, marine engineer, will manage the concern as a division of the Bendix corporation.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON FLUCTUATES WIDELY

NEW ORLEANS, May 25.—(AP)—While trading in cotton has not been so active during the past week, price fluctuations have been frequent and fairly broad. Although the week featured the closing phases of the May liquidation, the most potent influence has been the character of the weather, which has naturally influenced the new crop months to a much greater extent than the old crop positions, which showed but limited changes from day to day.

In the beginning of the week too much rain in the western belt and in the greater portion of the Mississippi valley created fears for the new crop. As a result of this demand for new crop months which were the more attractive because of the heavy discount under the old crop July position. As a result of this demand the October delivery advanced to 15.26 on Monday or 19 points above the closing level of last week.

Further tendered Low May contracts, and warmer weather created the impression that the crop was making fair progress. This caused selling by recent buyers and prices had receded 61 points from the highest reached Monday. The closing prices on Saturday were the lowest for the week, or a loss of 40 points or $3 a bale. Curs to bid by Low May contracts kept up all week both here and in New York. The May option went out on Friday in New York and will go out here Monday. Ordinarily the notice day is the same in both markets but because of the double holiday in the northern market on Friday and Saturday the notice day for May was of necessity advanced so as to give the full trading days before final delivery as required by the rules.

No authoritative statement has been issued as to the total deliveries on May contracts in the three futures markets, but it is roughly estimated that the total will reach close to 300,000 bales. The total of certificated stocks at the delivery points is now about 600,000 bales.

The following shows the high, low and closing sales in the New Orleans futures market during the past week compared with a year ago:

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—The demand for cotton goods has continued very high for future delivery, and mill orders are running out very rapidly. Buyers lack confidence in cotton values and have not yet felt the effect of the increasing curtailment of production in mill centers. It is stated that there are 5,000,000 spindles engaged on print cloths, and narrow sheetings that are committed to the curtailment policy continuing until July 10th and amounting to a stoppage of production in alternate weeks up to that time. Cotton duck and other heavy goods production is also being curtailed sharply.

In the fine goods division production is estimated to be from 65-70 per cent average capacity, while finishing plants are not operating more than 65 per cent capacity. A fair amount of business has been booked on a few lines of ginghams and on rayon mixed goods sold in the gray and white in the mills.

Business on domestics continues of a hand-to-mouth character. While shipments on fancy goods and printed goods continue to absorb all past book-

PRINT CLOTH SALES STILL AT LOW EBB

NEW YORK, May 25.—Sales continue disappointing. Demand for finished goods is coming into the market as one would expect it would considering that we have been having a period of active retail business. Present conditions are abnormal in regards demand; how much longer they can continue so is hard to tell. It is fortunate that the mills so generally started on 50 per cent program when they did; the necessity for it has become more apparent every day. Undoubtedly it can be expected to continue in effect throughout the summer. Lack of demand can only be met by curtailment. Those who have not already adopted the full curtailment program are certain to do so as their orders run down. To accumulate goods in such times as these is unreasonable.

Curs to bid by means the only industry that is suffering today. In many other lines producers are asking for guidance through the gloom and darkness of the present situation. We no longer feel that our industry is behind others in laying its plans for taking care of itself. We have seen a great change over the industry in the last few years towards more constructive programs.

Just along these lines, we have been working hard, rising to new heights of ground, in sympathy with strength of National Biscuit on the food front. Hygrade was another firm which made a sale of 100 shares of Great Lakes Dredge at 260, an advance of 116 points since the previous transaction, which was in January, 1929.

New issues making their appearance included the new split-up shares of American Machine and Foundry and Brunswick, both limited to trading on a when issued basis.

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—The Fokker Aircraft Corporation of America is to be reorganized, re-financed, and turned into a large holding company, it was announced today. The new company will be known as the Fokker Aircraft Corporation of America, and will be controlled by a group of investors, including the Fokker family.

Announcement of the expansion program was seen in aviation circles as making the Fokker Corporation a more established transport medium by an important section of the automobile industry, inasmuch as 40 per cent of the stock of the Fokker company is owned by General Motors.

General Motors bought into aviation during the period of enthusiasm in the early 1920s, and it was followed there were rumors that the automobile corporation was not entirely convinced that it had been entirely wise. Complete reorganization was seen in today's announcement.

A new company will be called the General Aviation Corporation, and the common stock will be increased from 1,000,000 to 5,000,000 shares of no par value. The Fokker planes will be built by a wholly owned subsidiary company, and another such company will manufacture Dornier flying boats.

The new 4,000,000 shares of stock will be used to acquire additional properties for which negotiations are under way. Possession of the American rights of the German Dornier Company would make possible construction of this country of such gigantic planes as the Dornier flying boat scheduled to be completed this summer, but it was believed that the year or two anyway the American company would build only the smaller boats.

The expansion program was approved at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Fokker Corporation on May 21 and a stockholders' meeting has been called for June 15 to take final action.

BOND LIST CONTINUES WEEK'S CUP MARKET

Associated Press Financial Writer.
NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—The bond market was extremely dull and uneventful during the week. Stocks developed a better tone in the week, but the more active issues generally ended the period moderately below the levels prevailing at the end of the previous week. The average day's turnover was well below 800,000 shares.

Foreign bonds were depressed by the difficulties in reaching an agreement on curtailment at the Santa Fe Springs fields in California, but rallying tendencies developed in the week. Such issues as Gulf, Humble, and Vacuum, sold off substantially. Cities Service was active, but moved narrowly.

The utilities were under considerable pressure during the early sessions. Electric Bond and Share declined under new leadership, provided by Niagara Hudson, American Commonwealths B, and Central States. Niagara Hudson was stimulated by the prospect of an early alignment with Consolidated Gas of New York.

The natural gas issue held fairly steady in moderately active trading. Natural Fuel reached new high ground, and Lone Star and American Fuel and Chemicals were active. Closure of merger negotiations, Duquesne, a newcomer, was firm and fairly active.

The industrial and specialty divisions were firm in response to discharges. Drexel dropped several points in response to reports indicating a falling off in farm implement demand. The decline in the stock of the new financing was being done in the strength of the bull market for equity issues.

Foreign bonds were firm in quiet trading. The group did little mark time in expectations of the German issue, of which this market is expected to receive $25,000,000. It has not been definitely determined, but 5 1/2 per cent is rather generally expected, with the bonds priced to yield a little more than 6 per cent.
